Our goal is for all students to live and work in an international environment. This is what we call developing global competencies.

Through cooperation agreements with over 220 institutions of higher education across the globe, Malmö University students go abroad to gain new perspectives. And each year hundreds of international students study in Malmö, enriching our student body with their diverse experiences.

We open ourselves to the world. Yet at the same time, the world can be found in the city of Malmö. Located in Sweden’s most multicultural city, Malmö University is known for its expertise in widening recruitment and attracts students with a range of different ethnic and cultural backgrounds. We also make an effort to recruit students whose family background does not necessarily include university education.

Founded in 1998, Malmö University is today the eighth largest in Sweden with approximately 22 000 students. Housed in modern buildings – on two campuses in the city, one near the harbour and central station and a smaller one integrated with the hospital area – the University has played a significant role in the transformation of Malmö from an industrial city to a centre of learning, culture and innovation.

We aim to be an open university: open to changes, open to the demands of the changing labour market, open to new pedagogical methods, and open to the use of knowledge that cuts across traditional disciplinary boundaries. Our aim is to provide students with a broad-based, in-depth education that embraces many different fields of inquiry. Our multi-disciplinary approach means that several disciplines meet under one roof, each one enriching the other.

The concept active student learning is an integral part of education at Malmö University, and students share responsibility for the learning process. We also use problem-based learning in the classroom, where students and teachers strive to expand upon their knowledge and develop creative solutions to real-life problems. This method provides a deeper understanding of the subject and is a tool for continued learning useful throughout life.

At the centre of the new Öresund region with approximately 3.5 million inhabitants, Malmö University connects Sweden in culture, industry and education to Copenhagen in Denmark and to Europe. Malmö is a city of transition, vibrant culture and dramatic environments, and is surrounded by some of Sweden’s most beautiful countryside and natural beaches. In a survey published by one of Sweden’s largest student newspapers, Studentliv, Malmö was voted one of the top three university towns in Sweden for student services and student life.

The university collaborates with partner universities all over the world through programmes such as Nordplus, Erasmus, Linnaeus-Palme and Tempus.

The university also welcomes international exchange students through bilateral co-operation agreements and international networks, such as the International Network of Universities (INU) and the Santander Group.

The University offers all international students support services, helping them get settled in student life in Malmö.

Welcome to Malmö University!
HOME Uni University of Tasmania
STUDIES AT Faculty of Health and Society, nursing
AGE 21
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH “Hej! Hur är läget?” (Hello! What’s up?)

“This is my first trip to Europe. I wanted to see a different part of the world, and try something new. It has been great! Studying to be a nurse, the experience from the university hospital (UMAS) is very useful and different from home since I was allowed to try a lot more clinical skills here. IV cannulation for example. My class of five people has spent about 30 percent at the university and 70 percent at the hospital. Our English tutor has been very helpful. It has been a very international period. I have seen snow and I have tried typical Swedish pickled herring. But I have also been introduced to a lot of other exciting food by all the international students on my corridor.”

DON’T MISS “Go to the nearby beach and have a gelato – Italian ice cream.”
SWEDEN

For a country with a population of only nine million inhabitants, Sweden is remarkably diverse. It stretches all the way from Lapland in the far north—home of the midnight sun, reindeer and the indigenous Sámi people down to the southernmost part of Skåne, where the impressive Öresund Bridge connects Sweden with the Danish capital city of Copenhagen and, in turn, the rest of Europe.

Swedish music and literature are renowned worldwide. Groups such as ABBA and The Cardigans have international audiences, while Astrid Lindgren has helped to put Sweden on the map with her books about the rebellious, plucky and independent Pippi Longstocking. As many know, Sweden is the home of the prestigious Nobel Prize that awarded once a year for important contributions in various disciplines such as Medicine, Physics and Literature.

Swedish design, with innovative companies like IKEA and H&M in the forefront, is appreciated globally. The Swedish culinary tradition is another aspect of this land which has influenced international tastes—one can now experience the well known Swedish smorgasbord anywhere in the world! Classic Swedish recipes include honey-and-mustard roasted ham served during Yuletide, and fermented herring known as surströmming eaten annually in August. In short, Sweden is itself an exciting smorgasbord overflowing with music, literature, design, food and stimulating people of every sort!
Malmö is situated in the very south of Sweden. It is a town of about 270,000 people, making it the third largest municipality in the country after the capital Stockholm and Gothenburg.

Malmö combines in its urban environment avant-garde architecture with medieval buildings, as well as sporting long sandy beaches. It provides its inhabitants with a blend of different cultures, trends and atmospheres. It is possible to find people from every corner of the world living here, and over 40 languages are spoken in the town.

Discover for yourself what the different areas of Malmö have to offer. Visit the old bohemian district of Möllevången where you can experience small cafés and the fringe art scene; or take a stroll in the newly built neighbourhood of Västra Hamnen and enjoy lunch in one of the waterside restaurants. Visit Ribersborg, the main beach in Malmö, a long white sand beach located in the middle of the city. A description of Malmö would not be complete without mentioning sports. In particular, the soccer and ice hockey teams are both in the national leagues and are enthusiastically supported at home matches. Every August Malmö teems with fervent activity during the Festival. For seven whole days the city is transformed into a vibrant multi-cultural happening. Over 1.4 million visitors attend the festival to participate in music, literature and film events, enjoy food and performances from all over the world.

Malmö is truly turned into a diverse and unique hub. During their studies in Malmö, students from outside of Europe usually use the opportunity to travel and see the rest of Europe during weekends and holidays. In a couple of hours by train, or even less by plane, you can enjoy the museums in Paris, the historical sites of Berlin or the parks in London.
Malmö University offers a choice of more than 90 study programmes and 500 independent courses, some of which are conducted in English. Students from across Sweden and all over the world have the opportunity to study across traditional disciplinary boundaries and choose from courses as diverse as the university itself.

The University is organised into five broad areas of study and research:

• Faculty of Culture and Society
• Faculty of Health and Society
• Faculty of Odontology
• School of Teacher Education
• School of Technology

Each Faculty/School has at least one International Coordinator responsible for Exchange students and internationalisation. See contact details under the different subject areas on the following pages.

The organisation reflects our multidisciplinary approach to education. Students study courses in the Humanities, Social Sciences, Arts Subjects, Teacher Training, Sport Science, Medicine, Health Sciences, Dentistry, Computer Science and Engineering.

We offer degrees at the undergraduate, master and doctoral level. Our graduates work in an array of professions in communities all over the world – as teachers, engineers, social workers, nurses, dentists, civil servants, designers and much more.

The following section is designed to provide more in-depth information about the education opportunities available in each subject area at the undergraduate level and a presentation of the specialised master’s programmes taught in English. Please note that fulltime studies equals 30 ECTS per semester.
ADINA MOORE CANADA

HOME UNI Simon Fraser University
STUDIES AT Faculty of Culture and Society, School of Arts and Communication/K3 (Image making)
AGE 22
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH “Jag är 22 år och studerar film.” (I’m 22 years old and a film major.)

"The introduction was excellent, they put a lot of work into it and it gave me great connections from the start. The facilities at the university are really nice. Open space, light, close to the water, tons of computers and really good sound studios. All there to grab if you want. The school provided you but did not stuff you with all the answers. It gives you a freedom but also a responsibility to push yourself. As a film major I was a frequent guest at the library in ‘Orkanen’. There you can borrow a lot of good movies. I liked the size of the community where you recognize faces in the local stores."

DON’T MISS! “All the good coffee places! I worked my way around the city as a happy coffee addict.”
How and why do international conflicts emerge? Why do people move and what are the effects? What is the history of human rights and how are these laws practised today? Social Sciences at Malmö University have an international profile, focusing on global processes and cross-cultural perspectives. Students study subjects ranging from European Integration, Human Rights, and Anthropology to Migration, Project Management and Social Work. Below are a few examples of subject courses taught in English. For complete and current information, please visit www.mah.se/student/exchange.

HUMAN RIGHTS, LEVEL I-III (30 ECTS EACH)
Study of law, Politics and Philosophy in the field of Human Rights through a multidisciplinary perspective. Seminars, project work, individual research, articles and academic papers lead to the ability to practice legal analysis and solve legal problems with reference to human rights law.

INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND ETHNIC RELATIONS, LEVEL I-IV (30 ECTS EACH)
Multidisciplinary perspectives on fundamental global processes within society and the concrete and ever-changing consequences they have on society and individuals. Focuses on the reasons for international migration and the results of international migration, immigration policies, integration and segregation processes, racism and relations reflecting cultural and religious diversity.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, LEVEL I-III (30 ECTS EACH)
The courses focus on providing the students with theoretical and conceptual tools aimed at aiding in the analysis of the evolving structures and processes of world politics, its patterns of cooperation and conflict on regional and global levels, and the changing preconditions for international peace and security as well as human security.

PEACE AND CONFLICT STUDIES, LEVEL I-IV (30 ECTS EACH)
Studies how conflicts emerge, how they can be resolved and whether a sustainable global order of peace is possible. Focuses on conflict theory and conflict management, and an inquiry into the path towards positive peace.

All courses above are given at the Faculty of Culture and Society, Department of Global Political Studies (GPS) and at the Department of International Migration and Ethnic Relations (IMER).

CONTACT
International Coordinator: Ms Magdalena Svensson
Email: magdalena.svensson@mah.se

PROJECT MANAGEMENT AND ORGANIZATION (30 ECTS)
The ability to handle complex development initiatives of different kinds is the core of the field of project management. Topics include: project models; project management strategies, leadership and teamwork; creativity and learning processes; and projects in a global and multicultural context.

The course is given at the Faculty of Culture and Society, Department of Urban Studies.

CONTACT
International Coordinator: Ms Katja Lundqvist
Email: katja.lundqvist@mah.se
HOME UNI: Ritsumeikan University
STUDIES AT: Faculty of Culture and Society, Department of International Migration and Ethnic Relations, (IMER)
AGE 22
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH: “Kan jag få en kaffe tack?” (Can I have a coffee please?)

“I really like Malmö! My hometown Osaka is so big. Malmö is not, but not too small either. There are so many nice coffee houses. Once you learn the Swedish word “fika” (have a coffee together), you know that is the way to build relations in this country.

At Malmö University you meet students of different ages. Great people who are parents and have worked for some years, and then begin to study. That never happens in Japan. Here you can also meet guys who can consider doing both laundry and dishes! I am going home to get my Bachelor in Political Science, then I have already decided to come back.”

DON'T MISS: “The great introduction program for international students. Very well organized!”
TEACHER TRAINING AND SPORTS SCIENCE

With over 7000 students enrolled at the School of Teacher Education, Malmö University offers courses for all levels of teacher training, from pre-school to upper-secondary school, in subjects ranging from Science and History to Art and Physical Education.

In Sweden, the public school curriculum contains not only goals and objectives to gain knowledge, skills and understanding, but also aims to foster democratic integrity and promote fundamental values such as equality, tolerance, inclusion and the value of diversity. All these aspects are reflected in the courses and methods of learning and teaching at the School of Teacher Education.

Below are a few examples of the subject courses taught in English at the School of Teacher Education, within different areas of study. For complete and current information, please visit www.mah.se/student/exchange

TEACHER TRAINING

CHILDREN’S RIGHTS (15 ECTS)

ENGLISH IN THE EARLY SCHOOL YEARS, LEVEL I-II (15 ECTS EACH)
Focuses on English language and increasing awareness of how a second language is acquired. Special emphasis is also placed on cultural diversity, identity constructions, and language development.

LEARNING AND TEACHING IN MULTICULTURAL SCHOOLS (15 ECTS)
Focuses on developing learning and teaching methods for working with children and youths from diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds. Organized around a number of different themes, the course includes both theoretical studies and student teaching experiences.

TEACHING FOR SUSTAINABILITY (15 ECTS)
An interdisciplinary course on Education for Sustainable Development (ESD), focusing on environmental problems and ecological, social and economic perspectives of sustainability. Theories of teaching and learning, and the application of practical knowledge in the classroom.

SPORTS SCIENCE

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND SPORTS FROM A SWEDISH PERSPECTIVE (15 ECTS)
Theoretical and practical understanding of the cultural context of Physical Education and sports in Sweden, both from contemporary and historical perspectives. "Friluftsliv", i.e. activities and learning in nature, has a special place in Swedish culture, and this course focus specifically on outdoor activities and includes one-week of outdoor activities.

SPORTS PSYCHOLOGY (15 ECTS)
An introduction to the theoretical and practical aspects of Sports Psychology. Focuses is placed on a research to practice orientation that is used to prepare for sports performance, both team and individual sports.

All courses above are given at the School of Teacher Education.

CONTACT
International Coordinators:
Mr Bo Lundahl and Ms Annika Landberg
Email: bo.lundahl@mah.se Email: annika.landberg@mah.se
STUDIES AT School of Teacher Education
AGE 23
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH “Jag heter Mauricio, jag studerar engelska.” (My name is Mauricio, I study English.)

“I felt strange arriving in Stockholm where everybody seemed so tall. But Malmö is very multicultural and not so different for me. The university is a comfortable place with everything you need: computers, cafeterias and a huge library for example. The result of your studies really depends on you. You have to check on the website about different things. No one will automatically remind you. It is my first time on my own. Just to cook, I mean I know what my mom is using, but how much salt and how much oil...? I had to call her many times, but I have grown up here, from a boy to a man. I really feel warm inside, it is my best experience so far.”

DON’T MISS! “To enjoy Malmö from a bike, but remember the lights at night! They are strict about that, at least compared to Chile.”
THE HUMANITIES – EXPLORING HUMAN CREATIVITY AND IDENTITY

From Language Studies in Arabic, English, Georgian, Russian, Spanish and Swedish to History, Cultural and Media Studies, Literature and Film Studies, Philosophy, Rhetoric, and Religious Studies, Malmö University has a broad offering of courses in the Humanities. Courses allow students to develop analytical skills and critical thinking, using different perspectives and teaching methods.

Below are a few examples of subject courses taught in English. For complete and current information, please visit www.mah.se/student/exchange

ENGLISH, LEVEL I-III (30 ECTS EACH)
Focuses on the study of language, literature and culture as expressions of self and society, and is designed around contemporary cultural, political and linguistic issues such as the rhetoric of writing, post colonialism, critical theory, language analysis, and language theory.

ACADEMIC WRITING AND RHETORIC, LEVEL I-II (7.5 ECTS EACH)
Focuses on academic writing abilities in English to develop authentic, relevant, cognitive and practical skills. Students learn to write clear, concise and coherent college-level papers for a variety of audiences and purposes, using current academic citation practices.

ENGLISH FOR PROFESSIONAL PURPOSES (15ECTS)
English as it is used in academic and other professional settings. Concentrates on both written and oral skills, such as reading, summarizing and composing different text types, participating in group discussions, seminars and meetings, and developing presentation skills.

CULTURAL TEXT ANALYSIS (15 ECTS)
Intended for students interested in media and the study of cultures. It introduces the student to three major blocks of media analysis: media institutions, media texts and media audience.

All courses above are given at the Faculty of Culture and Society, department of International Migration and Ethnic Relations (IMER).

CONTACT
International Coordinator: Ms Magdalena Svensson
Email: magdalena.svensson@mah.se

CHILDREN’S LITERATURE IN A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE (15 ECTS)
Focuses on the history and development of national as well as international canons of children's literature, from ABC-books, primers and traditional fairy tales to Disney and Harry Potter. Teaching methods include lectures and seminars, as well as the use of different media, such as film and storytelling.

The course is given at the School of Teacher Education.

CONTACT
International Coordinators: Mr Bo Lundahl and Ms Annika Landberg
Email: bo.lundahl@mah.se Email: annika.landberg@mah.se
HOME UNI Universiteit Maastricht, the Netherlands
STUDIES AT Faculty of Culture and Society,
Department of International Migration and Ethnic Relations, (IMER)
AGE 22
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH “Jag älskar Sverige!” (I love Sweden!)

“Being prejudice about Sweden I thought: cold and expensive. Then I spent a fantastic spring in Malmö. With all these tanned people at the city beach – Ribban. I felt very welcomed right from the start. The introduction was so helpful.

The size of Malmö is also perfect. Big enough so there is always something going on, small enough to run in to people and to reach everywhere on a bike. At my university in Holland we work more in groups. Here it was more individual studies. It has been good to shake up the routines, and I am really glad I took this chance. My dorm at Celsiusgården was one of the best things: oh, those dinners we cooked! That is what I call student exchange!”

DON'T MISS! “To explore the rest of Skåne, nearby Denmark, and Stockholm and Oslo if possible!”
MEDICINE AND HEALTH SCIENCES

At Malmö University, courses in Public Health, Social Work, Nursing and Biomedicine emphasize the natural connection between medicine, health and society. The Faculty of Health and Society is located in connection to the University hospital (UMAS). Below is a presentation of different study options offered:

PLACEMENTS

Many students come to Malmö to do a (clinical) placement in Nursing, Social Work or Biomedicine. This can be arranged, please make sure to contact us well in advance.

COURSES

NURSING SCIENCE - CLINICAL PRACTICE IN ACUTE NURSING, EMERGENCY NURSING, HOME CARE (30 ECTS)

The course contains clinical training positions, seminars, lectures, case studies and is divided into three parts: Somatic nursing with a medical or surgical orientation (15), Emergency nursing (7,5) and Home care (7,5).

PUBLIC HEALTH (INDEPENDENT COURSES WITHIN MASTER’S PROGRAMME)

For exchange students interested in Public Health, we can offer independent courses covering a number of different themes at the master level, see some examples of course modules within the 2 year master’s programme in Public Health below:

• Public health and health promotion (7 ECTS)
• Statistics and epidemiology I and II (8 ECTS)
• Philosophy, gender, ideology and ethics (7 ECTS)
• The determinants of health (7 ECTS)
• Health communication, empowerment and health education (8 ECTS)

CONTACT

International Coordinator: Ms Maria Carlsson
Email: maria.carlsson@mah.se

ODONTOLOGY

Courses in Dentistry, Dental Hygiene, and Dental Technology at Malmö University are developed with four main principles in mind: self-directed learning, the holistic view of the patient, oral health and team-work. Clinical learning experiences are introduced during the first year, and are instrumental in developing interpersonal skills in clinical settings.

The Faculty of Odontology was the first in the world to train dentists using problem-based learning (PBL), a teaching method focused on problem solving and student learning. You will find no traditional courses like periodontology or oral surgery in the curriculum. Instead the curriculum is built up on thematic courses running for a whole semester. Examples of such thematic courses are:

• Prevention, Diagnosis and Treatment of Caries and Periodontitis (30 ECTS) Course 6, semester 6
• Diagnosis and Treatment of Infections in the Oral Cavity (30 ECTS) Course 7, semester 7
• Evaluation of Diagnosis and Management of Oral Infections. Oral Dysfunction and its Treatment (30 ECTS) Course 8, semester 8

Lectures and seminars are held in Swedish but can be changed into English on request. Exchange students at the Faculty of Odontology create an individual study plan together with an advisor from Malmö University.

CONTACT

International Coordinators:
Prof Christina Lindh and Mr Ulf Persson
Email: christina.lindh@mah.se Email: ulf.persson@mah.se
HOME UNI

Universita Karlwoa, Czech Republic

STUDIES AT
Faculty of Odontology

AGE 24

FIRST WORDS IN SWEDISH
“Hej! Jag heter Yulia och jag är 24. Jag studerar på universitetet i Malmö.” (Hi, my name is Julia and I am 24. I am studying at Malmö University)

“I chose Malmö because the Faculty of Odontology has an outstanding reputation among former exchange students from my home university. Here you are integrated into dental practice from start – taught how to solve problems, how to make your own clinical decisions and of course how to work with patients. The Faculty is very well equipped and organized. The library is great. Problem Based Learning is an excellent way of applying your theoretical knowledge into practice. It is about learning and finding out your weaknesses. My studies are very challenging but at the same time very exciting. Malmö as a city? So many young people!

DON’T MISS!
“Cuba Cafe with live Cuban music if you love salsa! And definitely don’t miss the Malmö festival if you happen to be here in August when it takes place.”
Interested in the history of light installations, the relationship between fashion, body and technology or theatrical terms and dramatic literary forms? Courses at Malmö University range from Theatre Production, Interaction Design, Film Production, Graphic Design and Media and Cultural Studies. Below are a few examples of subject courses taught in English. For complete and current information, please visit www.mah.se/student/exchange

ImAgEMakInG (15 ECTS)
Practical course in making images primarily for the web. The course introduces four areas of visual communication: sketching techniques, digital photography, graphic design and web design.

FASHION AND TECHNOLOGY (15 ECTS)
The course combines fashion and design with new interactive technologies. Learn about fashion history and materials as well as gain an understanding of how new technologies can be incorporated. The course combines lectures in fashion with practical workshops.

INTErACTION DESIgN (INDEPENDENT COURSES WITHIN MASTER’S PROGRAMME)
Design with digital materials by shaping the qualities of digital products, focusing on use and users. Exchange students may study courses within the Master’s programme, if eligible. See more info on page 19.

VISUAL COMMUNICATION (15 ECTS)
Visual Communication introduces a new way to look at photographic images, graphic design and visual communication.

All courses above are given at the Faculty of Culture and Society, School of Arts and Communication (K3)

CONTACT:
International Coordinators:
Mr Anders Hög Hansen and Ms Kristina Regnell
Email: anders.hog-hansen@mah.se
Email: kristina.regnell@mah.se

THEATRE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE (15 ECTS)
Introduction to contemporary plays that deal with themes such as gender, ethnicity, and class, offering the experience to perform one of these plays. Emphasizes the students own oral and written production, merging literary studies and critical thinking with performing arts and creative thinking. Given at the Faculty of Culture and Society, department of International Migrations and Ethnic Relations (IMER)

CONTACT
International Coordinator: Ms Magdalena Svensson
Email: magdalena.svensson@mah.se
HOME UNI: Cape Peninsula University of Technology
STUDIES AT: Faculty of Culture and Society, School of Arts and Communication/K3 (Interaction design)

AGE 21
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH: “Jag heter Patrick.” (My name is Patrick.)

“I left 35 degrees back home and arrived on January 4th in -4! But Malmö is a great multinational city with beautiful parks. Spring has been incredible, and I have enjoyed every moment. Design is digital-based here, while I am used to more free hand drawing. In my small class of 12 people there are some guys who can do anything with a computer. Malmö University, right on the harbour, is well organized and the teachers are cool. The pace has been a little slower than home. Less production, more conceptual and time to think through. I like that. In my corridor at Rönner I have made a lot of good friends who will come and visit me in South Africa.”

DON’T MISS: “Ice cream at the twisted tower – Turning Torso.”
Technology and technological developments influence our society everyday in a variety of ways and on a number of different levels, from individual usage to complex systems. We offer courses in Construction Studies, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computer Science, Physics, Design, Materials Science, Machine Technology, Graphics, Electrotechnology and Automation, and Image Analysis. Education at the School of Technology is primarily offered in Swedish, but a number of courses are offered in English each semester.

For more information please visit www.mah.se/student/exchange or contact the International Coordinator at the School of Technology. The courses may vary from year to year.

ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

The programme itself focuses on advanced biomaterials, biomechanics and the application of advanced materials in medicine. Examples of courses offered are:

- Introductory Course in Physics and Mathematics 6 ECTS
- Introduction to Materials Engineering 7 ECTS
- Biomechanics 5 ECTS
- Nanomaterials 7 ECTS
- Characterization of Materials 8 ECTS
- Materials Modelling and Continuum Mechanics 8 ECTS

CONTACT

International Coordinator: Ms Susanne Degher
Email: susanne.degher@mah.se

MATERIALS SCIENCE

(Independent courses within Master’s programme)

Within the Master’s programme Material Science, exchange students may choose to follow independent courses.
MASTER’S PROGRAMMES

Considering an advanced degree? Malmö University offers a number of Master’s Programmes taught in English open to international students. A Master’s Programme is a one or two year programme of study. Two different degrees can be awarded at this level:

DEGREE OF MASTER (ONE YEAR) 60 ECTS

DEGREE OF MASTER (TWO YEARS) 120ECTS

Exchange students with the right qualifications can be admitted to a semester/full year of a Master’s programme. Students can also fulfil requirements for a Master’s degree by completing individual coursework at the Master level.

Below are some examples of Master’s Programmes available in English. See www.mah.se/education for complete and up to date information.

COMMUNICATION FOR DEVELOPMENT (60 ECTS, 1 YEAR)

A web-based course where students will gain theoretical knowledge and practical competences in the fields of communication, media, culture, development social changes and globalization.

GLOBAL POLITICAL STUDIES (60 ECTS, 1 YEAR)

The programme will give you a solid theoretical base concerning the meaning and role of concepts like justice, peace, security, power, culture and democracy. It will furnish you with methods and approaches for applying your knowledge and analyzing conflicts, international relations, and human rights claims and violations. The programme offers three specialization tracks:

- Track 1 Human Rights
- Track 2 International Relations
- Track 3 Peace and conflict studies

This programme will make you well equipped to work with issues like international aid, development, conflict prevention, foreign policy, and human rights fulfilment. The programme also prepares you for further study on advanced and doctoral level.

INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND ETHNIC RELATIONS (60 ECTS, 1 YEAR OR 120 ECTS, 2 YEARS)

An in-depth knowledge of the multidisciplinary concerns of IMER and the theoretical and methodological concerns. Graduates will be able to work with IMER-related questions in a professional or voluntary capacity and be eligible to apply for PhD-programmes within the field.

PUBLIC HEALTH (120 ECTS, 2 YEARS)

Prepares students for qualified work in the Public Health sector, or further research studies in Public Health. This programme is multidisciplinary and is a cooperation between Faculty of Health and Society, International Migration and Ethnic Relations and Sport Sciences.

THE ØRESUND MASTER PROGRAMME OF EUROPEAN STUDIES (120 ECTS, 2 YEARS)

It focuses on culture, communication, politics and the public sphere. Courses are organised around European identity, the role of Europe in a globalised world, and European political transformations. The programme stresses practical skills with regard to communication and media. This programme is organised as cross-border cooperation between Malmö University and Roskilde University Centre in Denmark. Students accordingly live and work in a European, trans-national region.

INTERACTION DESIGN (120 ECTS, 2 YEARS)

Digital products range from working tools for games and digital media to interactive digital art. During this programme student learn how to design interactive digital products with a focus on creating outstanding user-friendly qualities.

MATERIALS SCIENCE (120 ECTS, 2 YEARS)

The programme focuses on advanced biomaterials, biomechanics and the application of advanced materials in medicine. Courses deal with Patent and Intellectual property rights, Research Ethics and Nanomaterials and more.

MASTER’S WITHIN INU (INTERNATIONAL NETWORK OF UNIVERSITIES)

The INU has developed a Joint Master Program in Global Citizenship, which allows students on master’s level at the member universities to spend one semester on exchange to combine studies under the umbrella of Global Citizenship. The students can also participate in a Summer Master’s School in Global Citizenship, hosted by Hiroshima University. In addition, the Department of Global Political Studies at Malmö University, is developing Double Masters Degree arrangements with several of the partners in the INU. This gives students the opportunity to study at two different INU institutions and earn double Master’s Degrees.

More info on www.inunis.net
STUDY IN MÅLÖ - GENERAL INFORMATION ON STUDIES

ACADEMIC CALENDAR
The academic year is divided into two semesters of 20 weeks each.
Autumn semester: September 1st – January 19th
Spring semester: January 20th – June 6th

THE CREDIT AND GRADING SYSTEM
Higher education is divided into three levels: undergraduate studies, master's studies, and research studies. Academic achievement is measured according to the Swedish credit system, using higher education credits (hp). To facilitate the transfer of credits, the university has also implemented the ECTS system (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System). One academic year of full-time study corresponds to 60 hp/60 ECTS credits. Grades, according to the Swedish system, are generally awarded to a scale of “fail” (IG), “pass” (G) or “pass with distinction” (VG). Students studying courses in English will receive ECTS grades (ranges from A- F, where F is “fail”) as well as being graded according to the Swedish system.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS
Application should be made online. The Coordinator at the student’s home university should sign the application and send it along with the supporting documents to the International Office at Malmö University, or directly to the responsible Coordinator at the Faculty. Application deadlines are April 15th for Autumn semester and October 15th for Spring semester. Application and instructions can be found on www.mah.se/student/exchange/application

APPLICATION PROCEDURE FOR INTERNATIONAL NON-EXCHANGE STUDENTS (“FREE MOVERS”)
Non-exchange students can apply for both separate subject courses and study programmes. The education on offer is published on Malmö University’s website. All applications to Swedish universities as Non-exchange students are made online on www.studera.nu/english. You create an account using your e-mail address. There are no other application forms available. You will receive your Letter of Admission through email. To be eligible for studies, the applicant must fulfill the qualification requirements for each course/programme. For studies in English, the student must have a proficiency in English corresponding to at least TOEFL 550 (paperbased test) All information regarding studies, living in Malmö, deadline etc can be found on www.mah.se/english

SCHOLARSHIPS
Malmö University does not offer any scholarships covering living expenses to foreign students, thus financial support must be obtained by other means. The Swedish Institute, SI, offers a few scholarships to students coming to Sweden to study. See more information on www.si.se

STUDENT SERVICES
Students at Malmö University have access to all support services during their studies. All services can be found at Studentcentrum, the Student Centre, where Study and Career Advisors, Student Health Care Workers, Student Counsellors etc are ready to help with information and counselling. See more information on www.mah.se/studentservices

IT SERVICE
The IT Service Department supports the use of computing and IT by staff and students in all sections of the University. A number of computers are specially designed for students with additional support requirements. They have software such as screen readers and spell checking. At each library site, a Helpdesk is staffed several hours a day to help with any computer trouble students might have. There are computer rooms in all university buildings with generous opening hours. See more information on www.mah.se/bit/itservice

LIBRARY
The main function of Malmö University Library is to support the study, teaching and research of staff and students. Malmö University has four libraries situated within the city of Malmö: The main university library Orkanen, School of Technology Library, Health and Society Library and the Faculty of Odontology Library. All four libraries are open to University staff and students. The Library offers many resources, including more than 35,000 electronic journals and electronic books, and our licensed databases can be accesses from anywhere on or off campus. See more information on www.mah.se/library

VISA – RESIDENCE PERMIT FOR STUDIES
Students from outside of the EU/EES studying in Sweden for longer than three months must have a residence permit. The permit must be complete and be entered in the passport before entering Sweden. The application should be submitted to the nearest Swedish Embassy or directly to the Swedish Board of Migration, and not to the University. Malmö University is not involved in the application procedure. More information on Residence permit for studies and Visas can be found on the Swedish Board of Migration’s website: www.migrationsverket.se
HOME UNI Istanbul Kültür university
STUDIES AT School of Technology
AGE 21
FIRST WORDS IN SWEDISH “Jag heter Murat”. (My name is Murat)

“The introduction was very useful, especially a ‘safari’ in Malmo. It is such a small city compared to my hometown Istanbul. I came here because I was very curious about Scandinavia. The school is very well equipped with labs, computer rooms and a great library. Not only with technical books, but also magazines, novels and even daily newspapers from many different countries. The teachers are very kind and friendly, more like friends, at least outside the classroom. I am really glad to be a student here and I must give special credit to the international coordinators who have worked very hard to make all the exchange students feel at home at the university.”

DON’T MISS! “The crayfishparty (“kräftskivan”) at the Malmö festival.”
INTRODUCTION PROGRAMME

WITH INTENSIVE SWEDISH LANGUAGE COURSE

Exchange students are invited to participate in a general introductory programme free of charge, which starts three weeks before the start of the autumn semester and two weeks before the start of the spring semester. The programme includes a Swedish language course as well as an introduction to Swedish culture and history, the political system, Swedish higher education and intercultural communication. During the weeks the students socialize with fellow students, and go on organised study visits and excursions. They will also meet with faculty staff to further discuss their curricula. The Swedish language course corresponds to 4.5 ECTS. The introduction programme is optional but experience has shown that students find the introduction very useful in becoming integrated in Malmö’s student life. Students are thus strongly recommended to arrive on time to participate in the course!

www.mah.se/student/exchange/introduction

ACCOMMODATION

Malmö University does not have any on-campus accommodation, but offers all exchange students (who apply for accommodation before the deadline) to rent a fully furnished room in a student housing. Most students choose to live in a dormitory together with other international and Swedish students.

www.mah.se/student/exchange/accommodation

THE MENTOR SYSTEM - INTERACT

Interact is an organisation within the Student Union at Malmö University that brings Swedish and international students together. Interact organize a mentor system that provides all incoming exchange students with a student buddy, ”fadder”, prior to arriving in Malmö. Interact also organises a lot of different activities throughout the semester, such as trips, parties, dinners, movie nights and ice-skating.

More info on www.karen.mah.se/interact

INSURANCE

The University provides “The Swedish State’s Insurance for Foreign Students in Sweden” for all incoming exchange students, free of charge. The insurance covers emergency medical expenses, certain accident cover as well as liability and legal expenses cover.

For more information check under the heading “Insurance” on www.mah.se/student/exchange/information

NOTE: The medical and dental care coverage only applies to persons who are not citizens of a Nordic country, an EU/EEA Member State, Switzerland, or another Convention country regarding medical benefits.

NOTE: This insurance coverage applies only in Sweden and Denmark.

NOTE: This insurance does not cover loss or theft. Students are required to sign a private insurance for housing and belongings on Arrival Day or show documentation of such from the home country.

BEFORE ARRIVING IN MALMÖ

Exchange students should receive a Letter of Acceptance well before the start of the semester. All exchange students also receive a “pre-arrival package” containing practical information regarding their stay in Malmö. The different faculties will also send course-related information directly to the student.

More info on www.mah.se/student/exchange/information

FURTHER INFORMATION

If you need any further practical information please contact the International Office, see the following link for contact details to different staff members: www.mah.se/internationaloffice

---

SERVICE FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS
HOME UNI Faculdade Integrada da Bahia
STUDIES AT Faculty of Culture and Society, Department of International Migration and Ethnic Relations, (IMER)
AGE 20
FIRST SENTENCE IN SWEDISH “Jag vill gifta dig” (should actually be “Jag vill gifta mig med dig” but Amyr just arrived... it means “I want to marry you”)

"At the big crayfish party everybody was happy and together. I thought Sweden would be cold and quiet but this was like Brazil!

The introduction has been just great. So well organized, and the system with your own “fadder” is very good. Any question; where to buy things, how to find different places, any doubt at all, I can discuss with my own “fadder” or any of the others. My hometown Salvador has about four million people. The school is much bigger than here but we only have say 15 exchange students, here we are more than a hundred. It is really nice. And again: everything is so extremely well organized!"
CONTACT US
You are welcome to contact us for more information about study options and opportunities for cooperation.
www.mah.se/internationaloffice

FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS:
www.mah.se/student/exchange

FOR INTERNATIONAL COORDINATORS OR FACULTY: www.mah.se/international

LIST OF PARTNER UNIVERSITIES:
www.mah.se/student/exchange/partners

MALMÖ UNIVERSITY
INTERNATIONAL OFFICE
205 06 MALMÖ
SWEDEN